

About Us

Alice Hanscam
BA in Child Study
PCI Certified Parent Coach®

Alice has her bachelor's degree in Child Study from Tufts University in Massachusetts. She earned her Masters level Parent Coach Certification through the Parent Coaching Institute and Seattle Pacific University in Washington State.

Alice's passion for supporting families in Anchorage, Alaska extends over 25 years. She has taught preschool, co-directed an infant/toddler center, mentored daycare providers, taught parent education classes, and volunteered in the local schools and at Providence Hospital. These experiences have provided many families with valuable, ongoing support over the years. The richness of the relationships formed nurtured Alice's enthusiasm for parent coaching. Currently, she is actively involved in and enjoying the parenting of her own two teenagers.

Who comes to Coaching?

Any parent who acknowledges the enormity and significance of their job will benefit from coaching. Areas of interest include:

- Parent/Child Relationships
- Ages and Stages
- Parenting in the Early Years
- Parenting in the Teen Years
- Behavior Issues
- School Related Concerns
- Media Related Influences
- Desire for Children to Reach Full Potential

We all experience feeling overwhelmed at times. A parent coach provides you with support, guidance, and resources as together you create positive changes.

What is Parent Coaching?

Parent Coaching is a mutually supportive, compassionate, nonjudgmental relationship between you and your coach that allows you to successfully identify and navigate the challenges parenting brings.

A PCI Certified Parent Coach® is a highly trained professional who listens intently, asks key questions, and offers resources and relevant information as needed. Through teamwork we will identify and emphasize your strengths and what is working for you, then create and implement steps tailored to address your specific needs. The result of the coaching relationship will bring positive, lasting changes and more joy and satisfaction into your family life.

"Alice Hanscam's gentle spirit, profound expertise, and caring ways provide an extraordinary parent coaching experience. She has a true gift for drawing the best out in others and for affirming authentically that which makes us our higher selves. Moms and dads are in for a special treat when they are coached by Alice."
